

WORLD BREASTFEEDING WEEK AUGUST 1-7

August 2, 2019- The month of August is upon us and with that comes nationally recognized Breastfeeding Month and World Breastfeeding Week August 1-7, 2019.

As a Michigan Breastfeeding-Friendly Workplace, District Health Department #10 (DHD#10) wants to empower parents by empowering breastfeeding. Breastfeeding has many benefits for your baby, your health, your environment, and your wallet and now is the perfect time to recognize them.

Your baby:

- Breastfeeding promotes the growth and development of children
- Breastfeeding provides the best possible nutrition and protects against disease
- Breastfeeding reduces the risk of developing obesity and allergies

Your health:

- Breastfeeding helps mothers recover from childbirth more quickly
- Breastfeeding provides a strong emotional connection with your baby
- Breastfeeding reduces the risk of ovarian and breast cancer, type 2 diabetes, rheumatoid arthritis and cardiovascular disease

Your environment:

- Breastmilk produces no waste;
- Breastmilk needs no extra packaging
- Most mothers do not menstruate while breastfeeding therefore reducing the need for feminine hygiene products and disposal

Your wallet:

- Breastmilk is FREE
- Breastfed babies tend to be healthier, saving families time and money of healthcare costs
- Moms that breastfeed lose weight faster, lowering health risks caused by obesity, which helps save on medical costs.
