- Train employees on: use of personal protective equipment in conjunction with food safety guidelines, food safety health protocols, and how to manage symptomatic customers upon entry or in the restaurant
- Notify employees if the employer learns that an individual with a confirmed case of COVID-19 has been there
- Close restaurant immediately if an employee shows multiple symptoms of COVID-19 and perform a deep clean, consistent with guidance from the FDA and CDC
Require a doctor's written release to return to work if an employee has a confirmed case of COVID-19

- Install physical barriers at cash registers, bars, host stands, and other areas where maintaining physical distance of six feet is difficult. To the maximum extent possible, limit the number of employees in shared spaces, including kitchens, break rooms, and offices, to maintain at least a six-foot distance between employees

Local government can decide to establish more stringent guidelines for businesses. Businesses must maintain a record of the requirements in sections 1(c), (d), and (k).

ED 2020-6 creates the Office of Worker Safety and allows someone to be appointed Director of COVID-19 Workplace Safety. EO 2020-91 establishes the workforce safety rules for all businesses across the state as the process of in-person work gradually returns. The Director of Workplace safety (and all agencies required to monitor compliance with workplace safety) will bring enforcement actions against any employer who violates these orders.
